Key to owners of coins & medals.

- 1 Henry Chapman. His number 1 collection was purchased by Fred Coy. and as yet is intact. His number 2 collection was purchased by Jake Spiro, 1897, and later sold to American Antiquarian Society, 1933.
- 2 Joshua Cohen, now in the Edison Institute, Dearborn, Mich. Sometimes referred to as the Fox Museum.
- 3 James Clarke, Jamestown, N.Y. purchased by Fred Coy.
- 4 Otto C. Gude, Cleveland Heights, Ohio
- 5 John L. Richardson, Stratford, Conn. sold at auction by Quinn.
- 6 Morgan Stafford, Newtonville (Boston), Mass. purchased by H.L.F.
- 7 Samuel H. DeVitty, West Salem, Va. I have no idea what disposition was made of this collection after DeVitty died.
- 8 Key to Raymond, this collection was purchased by Fred Coy.
- 9 Dr. Wisner, Hatfield, Pa. This collection was purchased by Spiro.
- 10 Jake Spiro, his collection was sold to American Antiquarian Society, shortly before his death.
- 20 American Numismatic Society, New York, N.Y.
- 21 Massachusetts Historical Society, Boston, Mass.
- 22 New York Public Library, New York, N.Y.
- 23 New York Historical Society, New York, N.Y.

- 32 Buffalo Historical Society, Buffalo, N.Y.
- 33 American Antiquarian Society, ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ Worcester, Mass.

Brady

My own collection includes that formed by Dr. Brady, of Okla. which I purchased in 1920, the C.F. Mason collection which I purchased in Jan. 1937, that of Morgan H. Stafford, which I purchased in June, 1941, that of a Mr. Means, which I purchased in March 1933, just at the time of the bank closings.

The Boston Public Library collection was formed by Judge Nelson Chamberlin.

The greater part of the New York Public Library collection was formed from the Haines collection, which was sold at auction.

There are also sizable collections at Harvard University and in the Lenox Library, which I have not examined. Also at many of the other historical societies and museums, some of these listings are the results of Dr. Joseph Elias efforts when he wrote the article which appeared in Manuscripts and later in the Numismatist, titled, "For the Love of Money" Most of this information was compiled by myself.

In using the key, when a number, such as 1, is placed in the line reserved for "Notes" it means that that collector had the issue complete.

Near the end of 1709, New Hampshire found itself compelled to resort to paper money and a committee was sent to Boston to either borrow money ^{from} that province's of Massachusetts Bay, or to print paper on their own authority. Evidently, with that much authority to print or borrow, it somewhat explains the absence from the records of the form or denominations of the bills. It is known that bills were printed, probably by Jeremiah Burner, of Boston who had been doing the Massachusetts Bay and Connecticut bills. And, from various references, the special paper with the re. overprint of A. R. for Anna Regina, was used. This had been first ordered for the Massachusetts bills and was also used for the Connecticut bills. Davis, on pg. 322, refers to them and "cypher" bills. Vol 4 p. 797, 1709. See also P. 797 in "The New Englander" Vol 4 p. 715.

At this writing, no bills of any of the early issues are known nor is any further information regarding them known to me. Records do show the following:

1709-	3,000	issued	1714-	1,200	emitted
1710	2,500	"	1715	500	re-issued
1711	2,000	re-issued of bills that had been paid in.	1716	1,500	re-issued *
	2,000	new currency issued	* (this was the amount of
1712	1,000	re-issued	the yearly taxes)
	500	new currency issued

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION. Large engraved bills, very similar to Massachusetts issues and probably still printed by Jeremiah Dummer, in Boston. No particulars are given in the acts but as the plates evidently do exist and reprints are known, the denominations can be established. See below for further comment.

This issue and later issues bear the overdate of 1714 and 1717. This could mean that the original plates of the 1709 issue were used for all issues to date with no changes until 1714, then they decided to add that date. As this issue was in the form of a loan for 11 years at 4% interest, they may have decided to re-engrave the plates and change the date and year, for these plates were then used for several issues afterwards. Why the 1717 overdate is hard to explain as the bills bear that same date. Also, some other known denominations of later issues do not have the "1717" overdate. It may have been used on the "small plate only"

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION same plates as May 20, 1717, with "1722" added, however, the known bills and the re-prints do not have the 1714 overdate on the 20s-30s-40s and 4 bills so it must have been added only to the small plate bills, 1s-1s6d-4s and 25s and there is some question as to the 4s denomination. It may have been 4s 6d or it may have been changed at a later date to that denomination as the re-

By the Aug 9, 1860

Records show the following emissions but as no bills are known and no details are given I have not attempted to make a guess at type or denominations. They are probably similar to this issue.

1757 - $ 20,000 emitted in 1957
1758 - 20,500 "
May 3, 1959 15,000 authorized but only $ 13,000 emitted
There were 1000 calls in 1957
no
Nov. 1959 $ 2000

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION..... This is a questionable issue. They were supposed to be "bills of credit" but I have never seen one. Scott lists them however and an undated issue of the three denominations as being up for sale at Elder's sale of June 20, 1772 for 20s each. However, I did not list the bills in Elder's collection when I examined it.

The date 11/20/75 is the maturity of the 1s & 5s bills - this could be an error, but the denoms don't match. However * shown by cvitty. The denominations show this is the June 20, 1775 issue which is due Dec 20, 1776 and the date just transposed. Reps were sold at the Chapman sale.

AUTHORIZED AND KNOWN SIGNERS

In Elder's sale of April 1725, he lists a 30s bill of Dec. 20, 1730, which I believe should have been 1775. Also in sale of Feb. 2, 1727.

Rep the 11/20/75 date on the 1s & 5s

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION In Engraved bills with date of Feb. third, 1690. (Note) Legal documents of that time, the year did not legally end till March 25, the closing date of the legislative year; so that tho dated Feb. 3, 1690, they were actually issued in Feb. 1691. (Paine) Bills were probably from the same plates as the 1690 issue with re-engraved dates. See Davis for the amounts of bills taken in and re-issued.

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION This was another private issue, started before the Silver Bank which was created in opposition to this one. This was known as the Manufactory or Land Bank. Bills were evidently from engraved plates and were redeemable at a fixed silver value in Trade, Stock or Manufactured articles made by the backers of the Bills. Both issues were suppressed in the summer of 1741 by parliamentary intervention.

Both issues have designs on the reverse, evidently made from wood cuts and

I also believe that Davis is incorrect in his assumption that the denominations were changed for this issue. A 3s bill does exist in the Mass. Hist. Soc.

REFERENCES AND AUTHORITIES A Brief Account of emissions of Paper Money, made by the Colony of Rhode Island, by Elisha R. Potter, 1837; Historical Sketches of the Paper Currency of the American Colonies, first series, By Henry Philipps, Jr. 1865; and Rhode Island Historical Tracts, No. 8, Some account of the Bills of Credit or Paper Money of Rhode Island, by Elisha Potter and Sidney S. Rider, 1830. The latter two are merely elaborations on the first pamphlet and all are taken from the Colonial Records of Rhode Island, proceedings of the General Assembly. These quotes will be used for all of the following issues.

The Bills were made from engraved plates, probably 4 to a plate, were indented at the top and must have had different devices. At the time of the Potter-Rider article, no notes were known but at least one was in the Chapman collection.

Further issues were made, probably from the same plates with no changes;

Act of Oct. 25 1710- £ 1,000 Same form + signature
Act of Nov. 27 1710- 1,000 " " "
Act of June 28 1711- 6,000 Same signature
Act of Nov. 24 1711- 300 " " "

All of the above issues were to defray expenses of the Annapolis Royal Expedition.

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION Some plates were used for the four smaller denominations with the added date "1726" A new plate was engraved for the six larger denominations due to the extensive counterfeiting of the £5 and 40s bills. This new plate had engraved reverses as did probably all of the previous issues but as notes available to me were all pasted down I have no sure way of knowing.

 AMOUNT DESTROYED Practically all were redeemed

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION This was not an issue by the Colony of Connecticut but by the private corp.
"New London Society, united for Trade and Commerce." The bills were printed by Timothy Green, were very similar to the bills of the 1713 issue and were probably issued in the same denominations. The charter was repealed in 1733. Redeemable in 12 years

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION. This issue was partly for exchanging the "New London Society United for Trade and Commerce" bills. There is some confusion as to the amounts issued. No records show the denominations but Nathaniel Hors of Boston was to engrave new plates. Timothy Green may have printed them as the 1735 issue, using the same plates were by Green.
Payable by May 1, 1741. Bills from new plate to be ready by Oct 1733 for £ 20,000

PENNSYLVANIA

The existence of the Pennsylvania note dated January 17, 1723 must be interpreted as meaning that its actual date is January 17, 1723-24, which we now refer to as January 17, 1724. This note was issued before the year end was changed from March 25 to December 31 at the time of the adoption of the Gregorian calendar in 1754.

This interpretation is confirmed by the following additional observations:

1. There is no legislation supporting an issue of notes carrying a January 17, 1723 date except the act of December 10, 1723.

2. No other notes authorized under the act of December 10, 1723 are known of or mentioned in any records.

3. The note dated January 17, 1723 contains the signatures of four signers authorized under the act of December 10, 1723, including Samuel Hudson, who was not authorized to sign any other Pennsylvania issue. The other three signatories are three of the four signers authorized to sign the April 21, 1723 issue.

4. The notes of the April 21, 1723 Loan Office issue authorized by act of March 23, 1722-23 were of large size (3-5/8"x5-5/8"), had a long detailed text, and a large coat-of-arms (1-3/4"x2-1/4"). The issue dated January 17, 1723 was of small size (2-7/8"x4-1/4"), had a short simplified text and a small coat-of-arms (1-3/16"x1-3/8"), just as is found on the September 15, 1729 issue. The change from small elements to large elements and back to small elements is illogical. The conclusion must be that the notes dated January 17, 1723 were issued subsequent to the notes dated April 21, 1723 and therefore must be accurately dated as January 17, 1723-24.

Figure 1 is a line graph showing the relationship between the number of nodes (n) and the number of edges (m) for a network. The x-axis is labeled n and ranges from 0 to 100. The y-axis is labeled m and ranges from 0 to 100. A solid line represents the theoretical maximum number of edges in a simple graph, $m = \frac{n(n-1)}{2}$. A dashed line represents the number of edges in a cycle graph, $m = n$. Data points are plotted for n from 1 to 100, showing a clear upward trend.

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION This issue was to replace the £ 24,760 of the 1723 issue, still in circulation which had been extensively counterfeited. As no notes are known at present, the style is not known but they were probably similar to the 1723 issue and may even have been overdated as were the New England issues.

REFERENCES AND AUTHORITIES New style and new vignette. I doubt that it is to represent the arms of Virginia. Philipps gives nothing except the amount of issue and some denominations known to exist. However, this issue is very mixed up. There are

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION two printings, one on a light weight paper and one on the heavy, coarse paper of former issues, there are also notes existing, using the plates of the last issue, with the date written in. See page for this listing.

The new style notes, both thin and thick paper, have key letters above the vignette. I have not been able to determine the significance of these.

An Act for raising the Sum of four Thousand Pounds ^{sterling} on the Real and Personal Estates and of and from the Proffits and revenues of the Inhabitantes of this Province and Establishing of Bills of Creditt for Satisfying the Debts due by ~~XX~~ the Publick on Account of the Late Expedition against St. Augustine (spelling as in Act)

"Proclamation Money" acquired that title from a proclamation of Queen Anne, in the sixth year of her reign, (about the year 1708), the object of which was to establish a common measure of value for the paper currencies of the colonies. The same species of coins, which were equally rated in all of the colonies, and passed at the same value as sterling. were variously rated, and of different values, in relation to the paper currencies of the several colonies. The standard fixed by the proclamation was £ 136 6s. 8d paper currency for £ 100 sterling.

We both have Uncle Irvings and Auntie Esthers, too
We find there are three Sidneys - two Janes we have for you.
And Who is Charlie Edison? - he is three different men,
They're all our second cousins - though we know not how or when.

I'm my Cuz-in-law
I'm my Cuz-in-law
It sounds funny I know
But it really is so
Oh I'm my Cuz-in-law

We just have given wedding vows - at Westwood Country Club
And all of those who witnessed it - can see that there's a rub
There are so many relatives - the family tree's so fat,
There still is some confusion - as to whom we were begat.

I'm my Cuz-in-law
I'm my Cuz-in-law
It sounds funny I know
But it really is so
Oh I'm my Cuz-in-law

So Stop and Shop at Baker's - across from A & S
And send your kids to Brandeis - and avoid a family mess
But when your offspring marry - be sure their choice is free
And pluck some little cherub - from another family tree.

I'm my Cuz-in-law
I'm my Cuz-in-law
It sounds funny I know
But it really is so
Oh I'm my Cuz-in-law

Just about four years ago - when Hope was twenty-two
She was married to her Julian - who had travelled East to woo.
Hope had a cousin Peter - who was a Harvard square
And Julian had a peppy niece - kept under Bryn Mawr's care.

I'm my Cuz-in-law
I'm my Cuz-in-law
It sounds funny I know
But it really is so
Oh I'm my Cuz-in-law

We both were at Hope's wedding - but considered not each other.
We acted just as coolly as - a sister and a brother,
But in due course we met again - and then the fun began -
Incest couldn't stop the love - of Newman-Solomon.

I'm my Cuz-in-law
I'm my Cuz-in-law
It sounds funny I know
But it really is so
Oh I'm my Cuz-in-law

We both have Uncle Irvings and Auntie Esthers, too

Oh I'm my Cuz-in-law

So Stop and Shop at Baker's - across from A & S
And send your kids to Brandeis - and avoid a family mess
But when your offspring marry - be sure their choice is free
And pluck some little cherub - from another family tree.

I'm my Cuz-in-law
I'm my Cuz-in-law
It sounds funny I know
But it really is so
Oh I'm my Cuz-in-law

In the Council of Safety, Charleston, Friday, June 23, 1775.

The Council having met in order to forward the impressions of money, the Hon. Mr. Drayton presented some devices and mottos, and Mr. Olyphant was desired to attend.

In the Council of Safety, Monday, June 26, 1775.

The Council agreed to the following devices and mottoe for the Certificates to be engraved.

For the £ 5- device, a bundle of rods or arrows tied together, representing the twelve United Colonies of America; Motto, Auspiciu Salutis, 1775.

For the £ 10-device, a hand holding a drawn sword; Motto, Et Deus Omnipotens, 1775.

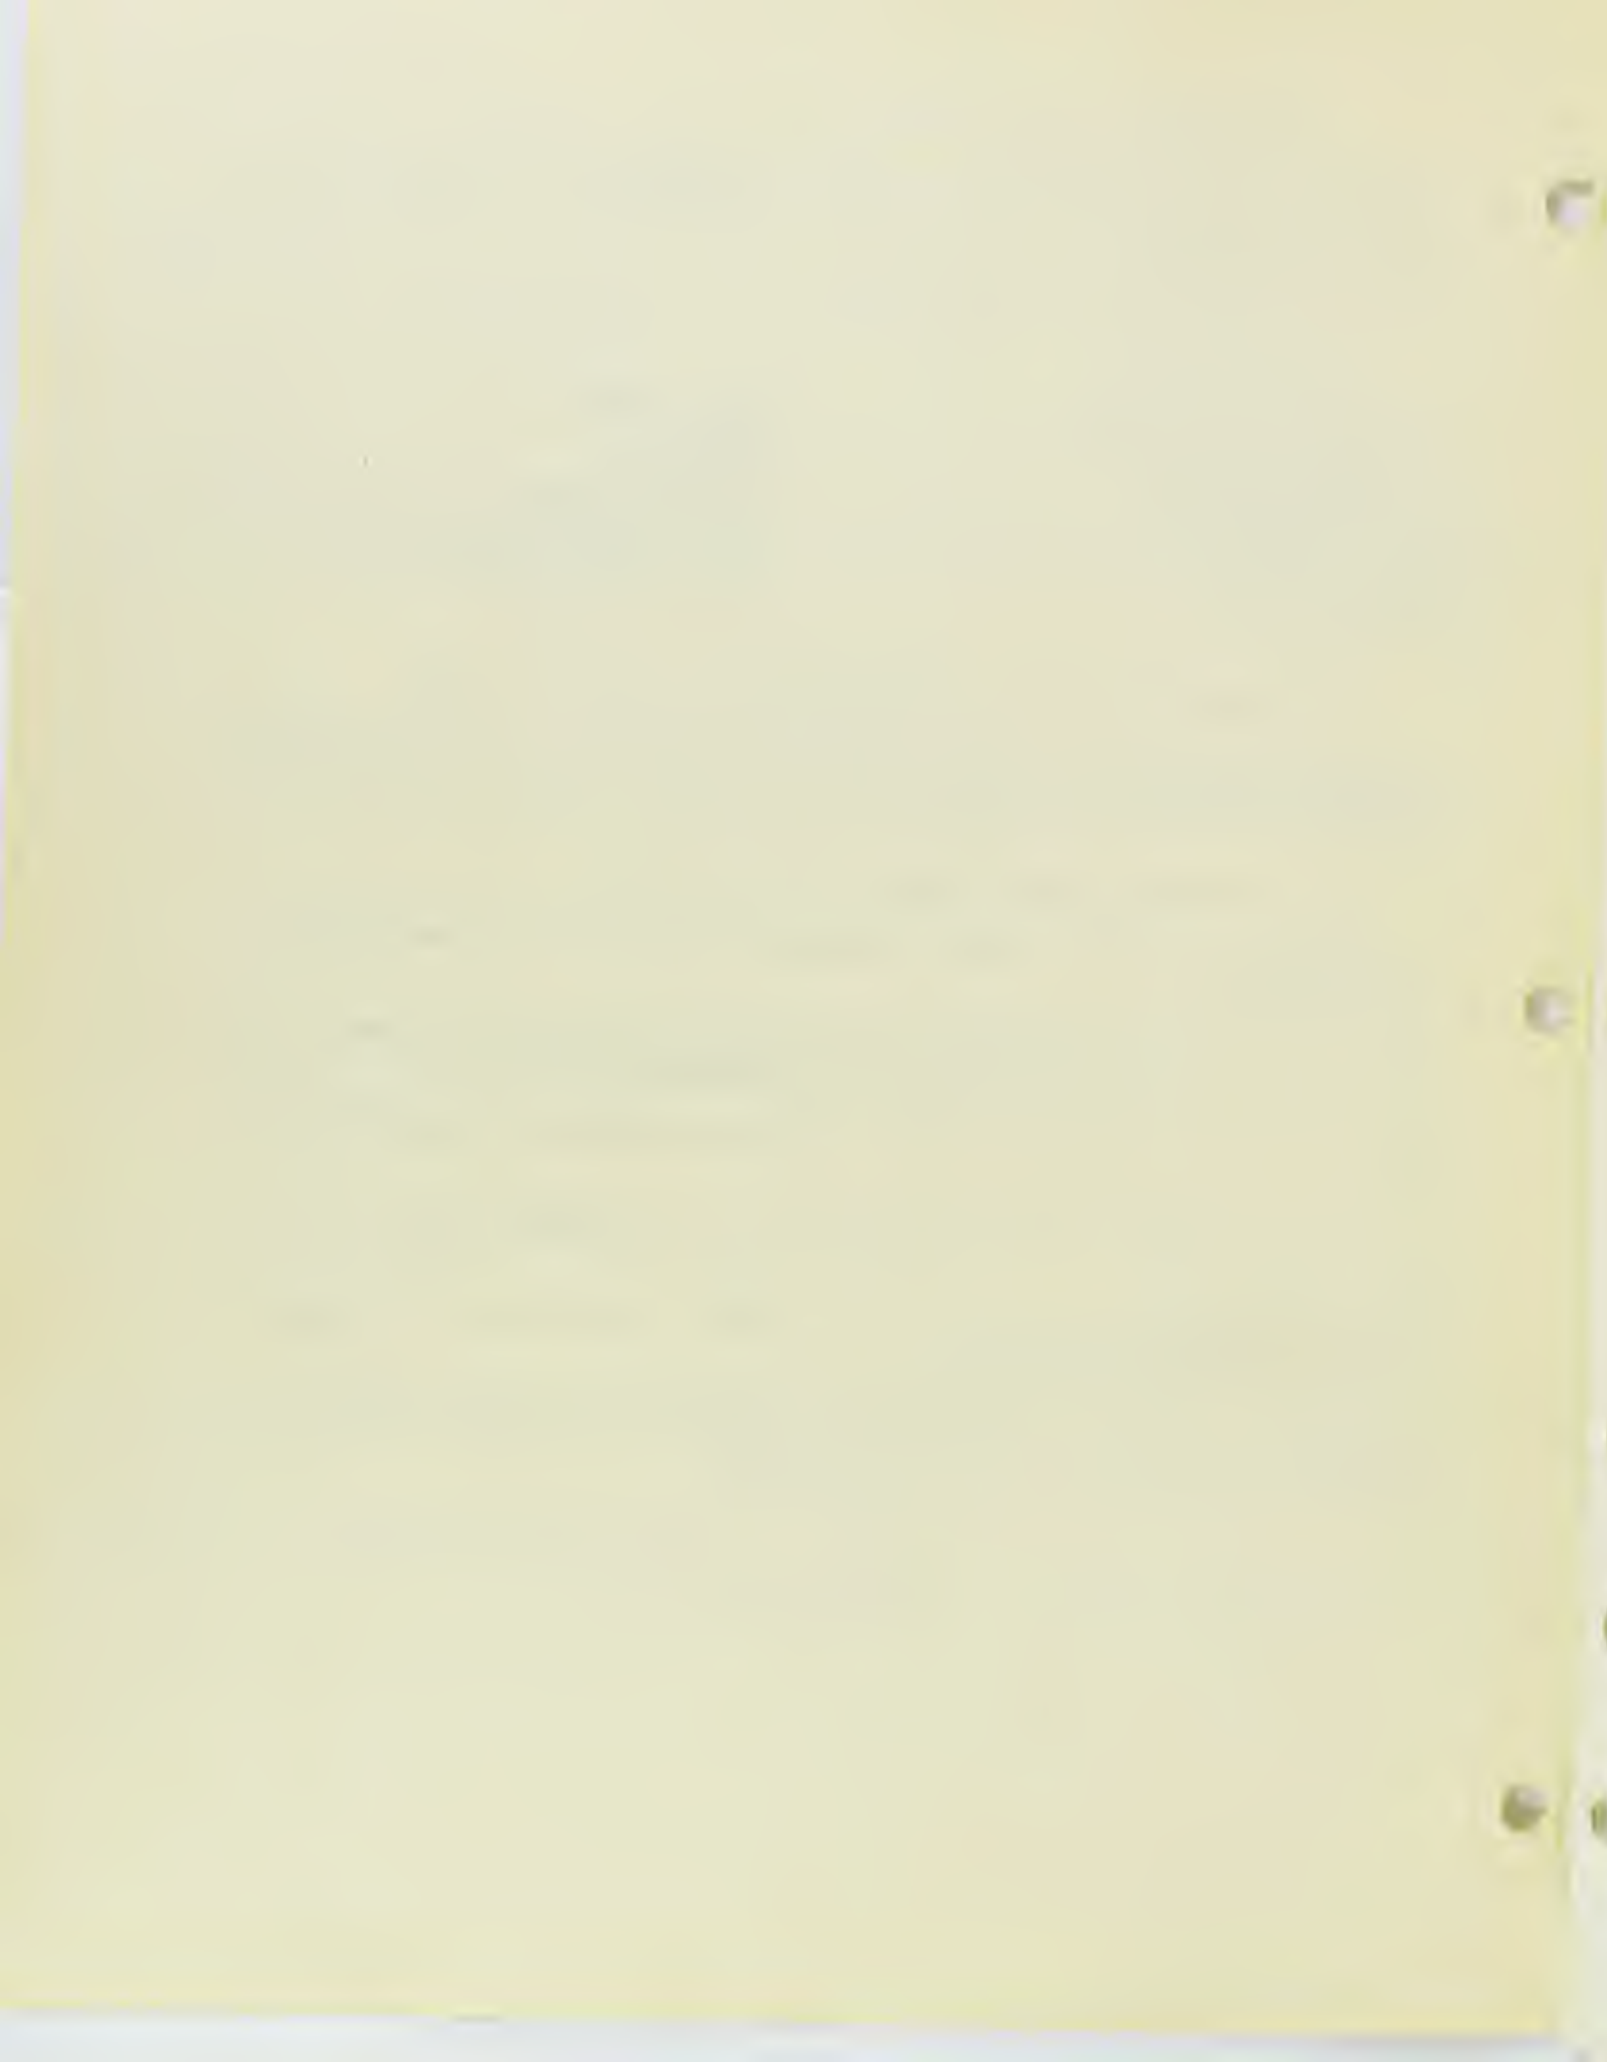

For the £ 20- device, two hands grasping palms, and joined together; motto, Fides Publica, 1775.

For the £ 50-device, a woman in tears, representing Great Britain or America; motto, Post Tenebras Lux, 1775.

And delivered them to Mr. Oliphant, with directions to make impressions upon the backs of the 20 and 50 pounds Certificates

We both were at Hope's wedding - but considered not each other.
We acted just as coolly as - a sister and a brother,
But in due course we met again - and then the fun began -
Incest couldn't stop the love - of Newman-Solomon.

Oh I'm my Guz-in-law

I'm my Guz-in-law
I'm my Guz-in-law
It sounds funny I know
But it really is so
Oh I'm my Guz-in-law

We both have Uncle Irvings and Auntie Esthers, too
We find there are three Sidneys - two Janes we have for you.
And who is Charlie Edison? - he is three different men,
They're all our second cousins - though we know not how or when.

I'm my Guz-in-law
I'm my Guz-in-law
It sounds funny I know
But it really is so
Oh I'm my Guz-in-law

We just have given wedding vows - at Westwood Country Club
And all of those who witnessed it - can see that there's a rub
There are so many relatives - the family tree's so fat,
There still is some confusion - as to whom we were begat.

I'm my Guz-in-law
I'm my Guz-in-law
It sounds funny I know
But it really is so
Oh I'm my Guz-in-law

So Stop and Shop at Baker's - across from A & S
And send your kids to Brandeis - and avoid a family mess
But when your offspring marry - be sure their choice is free
And pluck some little cherub - from another family tree.

I'm my Guz-in-law
I'm my Guz-in-law
It sounds funny I know
But it really is so
Oh I'm my Guz-in-law

October 20, 1963

The following groupings and arrangements are entirely my own ideas and I have found nothing in the available records to substantiate these findings. They were arrived at by process of deduction and by examining all bills available to me thru loan by numerous collectors and museums for which I am very grateful. Hazeltine, in the first serious attempt to list the issues of the colonies and the Continental Congress, back in 1872, made no mention of the various border varieties of the Georgia bills. Scott & Co. in their standard paper money catalogue, first issued in 1879 and later around 1884, made no mention of the differences but in their 3rd edition, published in 1889, noted that the issue of 1776 had three varieties of borders. This was also included in the 4th and last edition, issued in 1894.

Back about 1931-1932, I decided that there must be some reason for the different colored seals and the various border variations so I started to contact my then fellow collectors, Richardson, Mason, Clarke and others and asked to examine their bills, all of whom gladly loaned them for the purpose. Noting that there were more than the three varieties mentioned by Lyman Low, in Scott, I next contacted some of the Historical Societies I had previously visited and many loaned me their material. Others made photostats of bills in their collection. With this information, I started to piece together the jig saw puzzle.

Next I located the Colonial Records of Georgia in the Cleveland Public Library, one copy of the records was missing but I copied anything and everything which I estimated to be pertinent. These records showed that the Council of Safety were the men authorized to sign the various issues of the Colony so I compiled a list of all such members as they appeared at each meeting. Sooner or later many of these men accepted commissions in the army or militia and no longer attended the meetings and new names appeared. From this list of changing names I compiled my list of different issues, 1st, 2nd and etc. It is strictly an educated guess and if records ever should be unearthed, my listings may be entirely wrong but as a good many of the Georgia records were destroyed by the British, I doubt if the real truth will ever be known.

Then, having examined a great many bills, I sorted them into issues and started piecing together a plate arrangement. Many bills are known with wide borders, indicating either side edges or top or bottom of the sheet. Others were found in which the bills were rather poorly cut or torn apart, showing the border of the next bill so it was not too much of a job to work out a plate arrangement, that is, except for the 1st issue which is still not clear and probably never will be. My photostats show the bills I used in my compilations which is further proven by many other bills since available to me. The Henry Chapman collection, later acquired by Fred Loyd, helped fill in many of those denominations which were doubtful but everything finally fitted into a pattern.

Quite surely a type set plate was made for each issue and then the different denominations and seals were set up in a second and third plate or maybe only two plates were set up, but the bills must have been run thru the press at least twice, one printing the borders and black printing. One printing the red printing and the third printing the seal in color. Or, if the bill was entirely in black, the values were changed, usually only on part of the plate, such as the 5th issue of 1776 and the fractional issues of 1777. Also something similar to this was used on the 1st issue of 1776 but to date the arrangement escapes me.

When Fayette Raymond first published his Standard Index of Georgia Currencies, 1910, he asked me to furnish him with a list of bills which I thought should be listed so I listed for him those I figured that he would be available to the average collector who seriously tried to form a collection. Unfortunately, Mr. Raymond was a dealer and had many bills for sale so he made a list to suit his own needs and I did however, advise him of my findings and lists for his arrangement of issues and at that time, the number of errors I had discovered to date, for all of which I was included in the list of Associate Editors and contributors. When the later editions of his Catalogue were published, I again added numerous bills which I thought should be included in the lists and asked that he at least explain that the Georgia arrangements were entirely figments of my imagination and might not prove to be correct at some later date but unfortunately, Raymond never mentioned the fact. So, now I assume these arrangements are generally accepted, if anyone seriously collects the issues of Georgia.

Except for Otto C. Rude, a very good friend of mine, the late Fred Boyd and now Eric P. Newman, no one has ever had copies of the photostats I have prepared and I asked Mrs. Boyd to return Fred Boyd's copies after his death, which she did. They have not been published in any form. I have shown them to a few collectors ~~now~~ showed a mild interest but there are so few serious collectors of the Colonial and Continental Currency that I have hesitated to bother to write up these findings in the Numismatist or any other publication. Some day I would like to see them in print, just for a matter of record for most of these varieties are much more pronounced than the minor variations in Lincoln cents and modern coins and there was a reason for the differences, first a feeble attempt to prevent counterfeiting, next, probably a lack of sufficient type to make all of the bills alike and then, it could have just been carelessness on the part of the printer in setting up the type but to me it seems as if it was done for a reason, mainly to make counterfeiting just that much harder and also, to make it just that much tougher for modern day collectors to form a collection or to evolve any provable reason for the variations.

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION Small bills with 2 different border variations. Some vignettes as used in previous issues but with the ink a greenish-blue color and most known bills are usually quite smeary in the printing. The same borders and plate arrangement used in this issue was also used in an issue made in 1777. This issue is quite rare.

Benjamin Andrew	✓	So few of these bills exist today that I have had little chance to prove that all borders were used for both denominations. Furthermore, I have arrived at the plate arrangement in cooperation with the issue of 1777 which evidently used the same border plate. It is also possible that this issue and the 6th issue were all one and the same issue tho there is some little difference in the known signers.

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION This was probably a Treasury issue and the bills were issued in book form and staps left in the book for redemption as the bills are indented on the left hand edge. Type set, printed in red and black. The vignett in the lower right hand corner is a crossed sword and gun over drum and under a flag. Bills are quite rare.

NOTES AND DESCRIPTION No dates shown. I have assigned it to 1776 but it could be early 1777. Bills are type set, some variation in borders, printed in black and red with vignettes than anything previously used. Many of the signers of this issue were appointed to the Committee of Safety, late in 1776 so that accounts for my placing it where I have. The bills are quite scarce.

Legal Tender of 1790 to be valid. Redeemable by Aug. 11, 1790. Secured by the Treasury.
 NOTES AND DESCRIPTION Long type set bills, printed in black by John L. Smith, at Augusta. These are the first bills which indicate who was the printer. From the style of the early issues of this Colony,
 I believe they were printed in South Carolina but from 1770 on,
 it would be only a guess.
